40th Annual Meeting of the Society for Neuroscience
November 13-17
Nominations Open for

The Margolese National Brain Disorders Prize

The University of British Columbia’s inaugural Margolese National Brain Disorders Prize, with a value of C$50,000, will be awarded in 2011.

Purpose of the Prize:
The Margolese National Brain Disorders Prize will be awarded annually to a Canadian who has made outstanding contributions to the treatment, amelioration, or cure of brain disorders. The Prize is awarded with the expectation that the Prize recipient will continue to demonstrate excellence in their field of work.

Deadline for nominations: October 1, 2010 midnight – Pacific Time

The History of Neuroscience in Autobiography Series
Edited by Larry R. Squire

Outstanding neuroscientists tell the stories of their scientific work in this fascinating series of autobiographical essays. Within their writings, they discuss major events that shaped their discoveries and their influences, as well as people who inspired them and helped shape their careers as neuroscientists.

Need to stimulate your electrodes?

Stimulus Generators 4000 Series:

With the Stimulus Generators of the 4000 series you can choose between current or voltage driven stimulation. Decide in favour of 2, 4 or even 8 completely independent stimulus outputs.

Every single output has the ability to provide any arbitrary analog waveform as stimulation signal. For every single stimulus output there is one TTL in- and output, so you can synchronize your data acquisition or trigger other devices.

The stimulation isolation unit is already included in the Stimulus Generator. You do not need any other device - just plug in your stimulator and start stimulating your electrodes!
