NeurOnLine is an SfN members-only online community where you can share great science, network, forge collaborations, and keep in touch—anytime, anywhere—within a trusted forum. As with the SfN annual meeting and The Journal of Neuroscience, NeurOnLine’s content and discussions will be generated by members, for members.

- Discuss emerging scientific findings
- Explore new tools and techniques
- Network year-round within the global community, nearly 42,000 members worldwide
- Share experiences and receive or provide mentoring on different career paths, stages, and challenges
- Get involved in public outreach, from Brain Awareness and science teaching to advocacy

NeurOnLine will help you advance your science and career on your schedule.

Neuroscience Faculty Recruitment

The Department of Neuroscience at Columbia University is currently recruiting faculty in the neurosciences. We have a particular interest in research programs that link neural circuitry and behavior in genetically-tractable mammalian model systems. We will also consider exceptional candidates addressing issues in molecular, cellular, and developmental neuroscience, as well as in cognitive neuroscience at the level of systems and circuits.

Columbia University has an exceptionally strong and broad program in the neurosciences and aims to enhance interactions between basic and clinical research, and to link the neurosciences with a wide range of other disciplines within the University. New faculty will be affiliated with the Department of Neuroscience, the Doctoral Program in Neurobiology and Behavior, and the newly established Zuckerman Mind Brain Behavior Institute. In addition, there are numerous opportunities for interaction with other scientific departments and programs at the Medical Center and Morningside Heights campuses.

The application deadline is November 30, 2014. Please submit applications online: https://academicjobs.columbia.edu/applicants/Central?quickFind=59915
Include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a statement of research interests. In addition, please arrange for three references to submit letters of recommendation.

Columbia University takes affirmative action to ensure equal opportunity.

Requirements:

- Doctoral degree (PhD, MD, DrPH, DVM, or other appropriate equivalent) with demonstrated expertise in the epidemiology of neurodegenerative diseases.
- Experience in research programs in the area of neurodegenerative diseases, and demonstrated ability to teach within graduate and/or undergraduate programs.

To Apply: Visit https://jobs.msu.edu posting #0219. Include a curriculum vitae and a 2-page statement of scholarly activities, research and teaching interests. Three reference letters should be submitted upon request to: Dr. Mathew Reeves, Faculty Search Committee Chair, Department of Epidemiology and Biostatistics, 909 Fee Road, Rm. B601, Michigan State University, East Lansing, MI 48824. For additional information, visit http://www.epi.msu.edu/jobpostings/
Applications will be accepted through February 2015 (or until filled), with an anticipated start date of August 2015.

TENURE STREAM FACULTY POSITION
EPIDEMIOLOGY OF NEURODEGENERATIVE DISEASE
COLLEGE OF HUMAN MEDICINE
DEPARTMENT OF EPIDEMIOLOGY AND BIOSTATISTICS

The Department of Epidemiology and Biostatistics invites applicants for a tenured or tenure-system position at the assistant, associate or full professor level focused on the epidemiology of neurodegenerative diseases. The successful candidate will have a strong research portfolio involving one or more human neurodegenerative diseases with demonstrated expertise in the population sciences that may also include clinical and/or translational subject matter. He/she will have or be expected to develop an independent research program in the area of neurodegenerative diseases, teach within our graduate and/or undergraduate programs, and mentor graduate students and post-doctoral fellows.

Requirements: Doctoral degree (PhD, MD, DrPH, DVM, or other appropriate equivalent) with demonstrated expertise in the epidemiology of neurodegenerative diseases.

To Apply: Visit https://jobs.msu.edu posting #0219. Include a curriculum vitae and a 2-page statement of scholarly activities, research and teaching interests. Three reference letters should be submitted upon request to: Dr. Mathew Reeves, Faculty Search Committee Chair, Department of Epidemiology and Biostatistics, 909 Fee Road, Rm. B601, Michigan State University, East Lansing, MI 48824. For additional information, visit http://www.epi.msu.edu/jobpostings/
Applications will be accepted through February 2015 (or until filled), with an anticipated start date of August 2015.

Announcement of the sixth competition for the Annemarie Opprecht Parkinson Award

The international award for research on Parkinson’s disease which is sponsored by the Annemarie Opprecht-Foundation (Switzerland) will be presented for the sixth time in the year 2015 with a sum of 100’000 Swiss francs.

All papers presenting significant results or findings in all areas of research in the field of Parkinson’s disease (e.g. basic sciences, epidemiology, treatment, social impact, economical aspects) should be considered for application.

All details regarding the award such as conditions for submission, addresses, contacts and deadlines can be found on the Foundation’s website: www.opprecht-foundation.com
