

Editorial

eLetters Section of The Journal of Neuroscience Now Available

If you have always wanted to write a letter to the Editor, your day has arrived. The Journal has opened an on-line “eLetters” site that allows readers to comment on papers published in The Journal of Neuroscience and browse comments of other readers. We will post all appropriate comments after a short delay for screening. There are some simple rules that are posted at the site listed below. You will also be able to search recent comments on all papers or comments on selected papers. We hope it will encourage open and constructive discussion of the neuroscience published in the Journal.

For more information, see <http://www.jneurosci.org/>

Gary Westbrook, Editor-in-Chief, *The Journal of Neuroscience