A Note of Appreciation for Reviewers and Editors

It takes a lot of work on the part of many editors and many more reviewers to keep The Journal of Neuroscience moving forward. The Journal receives ~6000 submissions per year. The Journal editors want to thank all the reviewers who have contributed their expertise to the Journal in the past year, with special thanks to frequent reviewers who reviewed five or more manuscripts in the past year. The list of these individuals is available at the Journal website (<http://www.jneurosci.org/>). We also want to thank all the Senior Editors, Reviewing Editors, and Associate Editors who have given so much of their time to the Journal in 2007.

Happy New Year.

Gary Westbrook, outgoing Editor-in-Chief, The Journal of Neuroscience

John Maunsell, incoming Editor-in-Chief, The Journal of Neuroscience
